

FRIDAY, NOV. 3, 1882.

All Around The Hub.
RELATING.

If anyone can tell what benefit accrues to the human race by the recent trial of Webb to substantiate a given number of days in a tank we should like to know it. We have specimens of endurance in walking in fasting and floating, but excepting a gambling operation on the powers of endurance of certain men we fail to see any result to these trials. Suppose Mr. Webb can live ten days in a tank, is that any proof that ordinary men are going to reverse the order of nature and take to living in the water? We are surprised at the intense interest excited by these efforts to accomplish what is of no use when accomplished, and can only say of Mr. Webb, that unless the experiment pays him very handsomely he is a fool for his pains.

OLD BRATTLE STREET CHURCH.

Forty years ago the church in Brattle street represented probably more of the wealth and culture of Boston than any church in Boston. Amos and Abbott Lawrence, Daniel Webster, Edward Everett, Judge Thatcher, Israel Whitney, and a host of others prominent in political and business circles could be seen there every Sunday. But times changed; the old people died out; then the fashion of the church built very expensive church on the back bay lands, and mortgaged the building for more than its actual value. The society is scattered; their church was long ago sold for a fraction of its cost; and now it passes into the hands of a Baptist society, who after improving it in some particulars have opened it for worship.

COCHITIATE WATER.

There seems to be something serious the matter with our water supply; when we had trouble a year ago it was traced to Farm pond, and it was clearly demonstrated that the original Cochituate was all right. But it is not all right, there is some unexplained trouble with that, and people are gradually coming to the conclusion that water from any pond is liable to times of impurity. Science may overcome the objections, but as there is nothing with the exception of air, more important to health than pure water, it is really of vital importance to the people of Boston that something shall be done to obviate the impurity of their water supply.

FLOWERS.

Few of our readers have any conception of the business that is done in raising flowers for the fall, winter and spring. Late if has got to be the fashion to request no flowers at funerals, the floral displays became at one time absurdly burdensome; still there is a very large demand for flowers at funerals, and at weddings the call for choice selections is almost unlimited. One firm which furnishes a large portion of the supply of flowers for Boston has recently built a green house covering nearly an acre of ground, and we are told that even with that addition to their previous room, they find it hard to meet the demands made upon them. Parties in Boston pay from ten to twenty dollars every week for flowers to place in their parlor, and for them they depend upon those who make the cultivation of flowers a business.

THE WARREN BENEFIT.

Fifty years ago, when Wm. Warren first appeared upon the stage, an actor was looked upon as one to be scoffed at rather than honored. Then the governor of the state, the mayor of Boston, our first merchants would have dared to endorse a benefit to an actor. It is but a few years since the fact of having their theatres open at all on Saturday evening was strongly remonstrated against by some of our best citizens. All that is changed. Wm. Warren, who fifty years ago would not have been admitted into any society in Boston claiming to be genteel, has a benefit which is endorsed and attended on a Saturday evening by the very elite, the cream de la cream of Boston exclusives.

Old Fellows' Anniversary.

The seventh anniversary of the organization of Wompunct Encampment, I. O. O. F., was observed at Old Fellows' Hall last Friday evening, by a banquet and entertainment. There was a good attendance of the Patriarchs and their ladies, about 70 persons being present. The entertainment consisted of humorous sketches by Mr. John Thomas, humorist, whose滑稽 stories were exceedingly funny, especially his representations of the "Schoolboy" and "The Facial Family," which gave ample opportunity for the display of the artist's facial powers, and convulsed the audience with laughter. Mr. Wadsworth Bates contributed several finely executed corner solos, and Mr. W. E. Langford's efforts on the violin were very acceptable. An organ solo by Mr. R. F. Raymond was executed in his own excellent manner, and the accompaniments played by him during the evening were artistically rendered. After the entertainment the party repaired to the banquet hall, where an excellent banquet was served under the direction of Caterer Gardner, to which all did ample justice, after which the floor was cleared, and dancing was indulged in to the music of Langford's Orchestra. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and was a very appropriate anniversary celebration.

That New Road.

The County Commissioners were in town last Monday, and after viewing the proposed route of the new road from Commercial square to the depot, and also that from the cooper shop along the railroad, and the extension of Hill street to the same point, gave a hearing in Dexter Hall to those interested in the matter. The remonstrants against the road from Commercial square were represented by Hon. Asa French. The abutters upon either of the proposed routes were of course the most interested parties, and all had an opportunity of expressing themselves. In the matter. The Commissioners had doubts as to their jurisdiction in the case, as a road had some time ago been granted to run from the cooper shop along the railroad. They however listened to the arguments for and against the different routes, but what their final decision will be remains to be seen. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of the road from Commercial square.

LOCAL TOPICS.

Grand Fair.
The extensive preparations which had been made by the committee of Deiphobus K. of P. for the grand fair given in the new hall of the Lodge, were crowned with success. Some of the ladies connected with the Grand Army Sewing Circle have recently visited the Relief Corps in Chelsea, and express themselves as much pleased. The wives of the members of the institution, the wives of the officers, and the much care during sickness as the soldiers themselves, and as this is the prime object of the Relief Corps, it is hoped that an organization for their benefit may be established.

The Grand Army Sewing Circle has come into operation with the coming fair, which they hope will be the most successful ever held.

The annual fair of Paul Revere Post of Quincy is announced to take place in the Quincy Town Hall on the evenings of Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22. The entertainment is to be given each evening during the fair, and one of the chief attractions will be a camp scene entitled "Camp Lovell."

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music. The General was introduced to the audience by President Hart, and spoke at great length, but our limits will not permit of a presentation of his remarks. After his arrival J. A. Coffey, Esq., was called upon for an address, to which he responded in graceful and effective manner.

Uncle Tom once more.
Simmons & Mowers' late of the Wilkins Uncle Tom Cabin Combination will appear at Music Hall, South Weymouth, on Monday evening, Nov. 6th, presenting their entire new version of Uncle Tom's Cabin, new scenery, introducing Jubilee singers, genuine boudoirs, and trick donkey Barney. This is the only first class company who are playing at people's popular price. Admission, 25 cents. All reserved seats 35 cents for everybody. Seats can be secured at post-office.

Nomination.
At the County Convention held in Dedham Wednesday to nominate a candidate for County Commissioner, in place of Hon. Jas. Humphrey, resigned, on the informal ballot, John Q. A. Field Esq., of Quincy, received 40 votes out of the 63 cast, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Field has served as Special Commissioner, and will make an excellent County official.

Notes from "Fero".
The fine seen in the south at 10 p.m., Saturday, was the splendid residence of the Rev. Mr. Wm. C. Converse Abington, formerly owned by the late Sphyrus Cushing. Supposed to be incendiary, as the occupant was away at the mountains.

One of the most outraging assault cases took place on Pond Plain last Tuesday evening, the victim being a little 9 year old daughter of Francis Cushing, and the villain one Shaw, who was notorious at the time of the murder of Simon Smith, his father-in-law. He was arrested last Wednesday by officers Fernand and Tirrell, put in the lockup, and taken to Quincy Thursday morning, and Judge Humphrey placed him under $2000 bonds, to appear before a higher court, and he was committed.

As there has been a great many minds at the Weymouth Fair by A. B. Raymond, I will give their dressed weight:

Mr. Warren White taking the prize, having made 40 bushel's eye. J. R. Waldo made 35, Warren Poole 32, William Hall 29.

The fair closes this evening with drawing of prizes and an old fashioned supper.

Assault.
Mrs. Charles Ripley, while driving down Washington street between the Town House and the residence of the late David Richards, last week, was accosted by some unknown party, who requested her to stop, but the request not being heeded she threw stones at the carriage, which frightened the horse into a run, but no damage ensued, as we are informed.

Excursion.
Messrs. Henry Newton, E. S. Beals, Sam Cleverly, J. B. Drew, Chas. Simmons, Frank B. Bates, also widow Dandal, went to Randall Cottage, Stony Beach, Thursday of last week and from thence to the Centre House, where mine host, Zeus Loring with Mrs. Sprague, provided an excellent cold stew and other refreshments for the party. The annual game of horse-shoe throwing was indulged in by the "veterans," and they declare that all pitched the best. Mr. A. J. Randall, owner of the Cottage, gave the party a ride around the shore and over the beach, in hisarge "Sea Gem." The occasion was one of great enjoyment to the party.

Summary.
Mr. Frank Worster is doing a rushing business with the new brand of "Cyclone" tobacco, lately got up by the Boston house for which he is travelling agent. It is sold by grocers and druggists everywhere.

Mr. C. A. Carpenter will leave soon for a three months trip through Missouri, Arkansas, etc., in the interests of the boot and shoe house of A. W. Clapp & Co.

Mr. Erastus Nash's "Lady Thornton" took the second prize at Mystic Park Tuesday last, time 2:20-1:2, and also took the third prize at Beacon Park last Friday, time 2:37-1:4.

Caleb Stetson, Esq., leaves for his plantation in Georgia next Monday, to pass the winter months there.

Horses.
Mr. Joshua Wilkins leaves for Kentucky Saturday, and intends to bring home a lot of the finest horses of that state.

Mr. Benj. Wilkins will attend to horse clipping at the stable in East Braintree, and the work will be done in first class style.

Democratic Cause.
At the conclusion of the rally at the town hall last evening a caucus of the democrats was held to nominate a candidate for Representative. Oliver Burrell was chosen chairman and F. H. Torrey secretary.

Committee to count votes, John Long, D. M. Kidder. On the informal ballot, G. A. Cushing had 39, Z. L. Bicknell 27, J. R. Orcutt 2. The nomination of Mr. Cushing was then made unanimous.

Aida Entertainment.
The reading and performances of Miss Potter at the Union church this evening will be interspersed with music under the direction of Mr. Frank O. Nash. Miss Anna Sprague, soprano, Miss Josie Dowse, contralto, and Mr. A. B. Vining, violinist, will participate.

That New Road.
Mr. Frank Worster is doing a rushing business with the new brand of "Cyclone" tobacco, lately got up by the Boston house for which he is travelling agent. It is sold by grocers and druggists everywhere.

Mr. C. A. Carpenter will leave soon for a three months trip through Missouri, Arkansas, etc., in the interests of the boot and shoe house of A. W. Clapp & Co.

Mr. Erastus Nash's "Lady Thornton" took the second prize at Mystic Park Tuesday last, time 2:20-1:2, and also took the third prize at Beacon Park last Friday, time 2:37-1:4.

Caleb Stetson, Esq., leaves for his plantation in Georgia next Monday, to pass the winter months there.

Horses.
Mr. Joshua Wilkins leaves for Kentucky Saturday, and intends to bring home a lot of the finest horses of that state.

Mr. Benj. Wilkins will attend to horse clipping at the stable in East Braintree, and the work will be done in first class style.

Filled.
A new reservoir on Washington street was filled Wednesday, water being conveyed from the brook in the grounds of the Weston estate, through 200 feet of hose.

Sch. "Presto," with lumber, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon.

Mr. James Casey has commenced on the cellar for his new house on Broad street.

A prominent boot manufacturer informs us that business has not been so good on Front street for a number of years as it is at present.

The ledge on Stetson street, in front of James Ward's residence, is being removed during the past few months.

A Varied Performance.
Many wonder how Parker's Ginger Tonics can perform such varied cures, thinking it essence of ginger, when in fact it is made from many valuable medicines which act beneficially on every diseased organ.

GRAY hairs often cause annoyance, which Parker's Hair Balsam prevents by restoring the youthful color.

That New Road.
The County Commissioners were in town last Monday, and after viewing the proposed route of the new road from Commercial square to the depot, and also that from the cooper shop along the railroad, and the extension of Hill street to the same point, gave a hearing in Dexter Hall to those interested in the matter. The Commissioners had doubts as to their jurisdiction in the case, as a road had some time ago been granted to run from the cooper shop along the railroad. They however listened to the arguments for and against the different routes, but what their final decision will be remains to be seen. Public opinion, however, seems to be in favor of the road from Commercial square.

G. A. B. Rose.

The subject of the establishment of a Ladies' Relief Corps in connection with Reynolds Post is again being considered, and will with success. Some of the ladies connected with the Grand Army Sewing Circle have recently visited the Relief Corps in Chelsea, and express themselves as much pleased. The wives of the members of the institution, the wives of the officers, and the much care during sickness as the soldiers themselves, and as this is the prime object of the Relief Corps, it is hoped that an organization for their benefit may be established.

The Grand Army Sewing Circle has come into operation with the coming fair, which they hope will be the most successful ever held.

The annual fair of Paul Revere Post of Quincy is announced to take place in the Quincy Town Hall on the evenings of Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22. The entertainment is to be given each evening during the fair, and one of the chief attractions will be a camp scene entitled "Camp Lovell."

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy. of the town committee, and Mr. J. W. Hart was called to preside as president of the meeting, a dozen or more vice-presidents being selected. The Weymouth Band furnished music during the evening, and when Gen. Butler made his appearance at 8:30 o'clock, the band greeted him with a spirited selection, a storm of cheers serving as an exciting accompaniment, and nearly drowning the music.

On the Stage.
One of the latest was a toilet set given by James Hendon, a large pin cushion, the number of pins to be guessed; guess make, Mrs. Clinton Nash, South Weymouth; fine pair of custom made hand-waved boots, from Bro. Inkley's Corner; large number of articles prepared by the K. P. Circle, among them a hand-some doll, dressed by Mrs. Alice Smith, and another dressed by Miss Anna Norton.

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Mr. M. Ford, Secy.

PRAYER RUGS.

The Oddities Imported from Turkey.

"Do you sell prayer rugs?" the reporter asked the manager of one of the carpet houses of the city. "We do," he replied, "and we sell a considerable number. They are limited, however, as to size, and that fact keeps the sales within a certain limit." "What are they made of?" "They are made in India, chiefly at Karsiyagan, in Hindostan. A few are manufactured in Smyrna. They are all made by hand, and are unusually gay in color, considering the places they come from and the purpose for which they are used. We take the elevator, if you like, and examine some of them." A well-lighted floor of 300 feet or more in length was soon reached. It was covered from end to end with all kinds, sizes, and colors of Oriental rugs—indeed, every carpet was laid out in the sunlight.

"These vary in price," said the manager, "and may be had at from $20 to $200 each; they all measure about six feet by four. The carpets are very hand-woven, and the colors of a peculiarly decided character. The ground work in all of them is but little covered, and all have their characteristic mark—that open, oddly shaped figure placed near one of its ends than the other."

"Are they used for devotional purposes?" asked the reporter.

"The carpet man appeared to be a man of the question.

"Prayer carpets," he replied, "are purchased chiefly for their beauty, and the floor is covered with their beauties. They are peculiar rather than beautiful, and are used for all legitimate rug purposes."

"India carpets," he continued, "come chiefly from Bangalore, Lahore, and Madras. The Persians have Oushaks, and the Afghan wools—also from India—and all hand-woven. The Indian rug deep and rich in color, mostly in angular and odd mosaic figures, varied now and then by the occasional drawing toward rudimental geometric forms. The Persian rug is thick, and these are much used in drawing rooms. The Persian carpets are not so thick, but are closely woven and very durable. They are stiff and lie flat, not unlike the old Persian carpet, which will not bear texture. In color the Persians are lighter, and are considered by some purchasers more tasteful and elegant than India goods. Here is a fine specimen of the best Persian work. The center is of a luminous color which has not been successfully imitated. The small figures are finely worked in, and for tracery work in heavy woolen material are not easily surpassed. The border is once delicate and rich, growing stronger as toward the corners, and the stories of the border and main exquisite work in Oriental carpet weaving may be seen in these borders. Persian carpets are thought to be more suitable for libraries and dining rooms than for

"The prices for Indian and Persian goods run about the same. The one you have seen, ten feet by fifteen, is worth $250. These qualities are of the best; they vary in size from 9 by 13 feet to 10 by 15, and are sold from $100 to $200. They are not suitable for this or any particular market, but are purchased by traveling middlemen, or brought to the eastern cities for sale as completed. As far as I can learn, no American manufacturer makes them."

"I am often asked to fall out on the fancy of the moment, and it often brings about very eccentric results. Here is a peculiar thing in India rug; it is an Alabamian, and is unusually bright in color. Yet it is but a plain, simple pattern, broken up in a manner which is almost unique in an otherwise intricate way, and the fringes are made up of mixed and unmixed threads. The body figures, too, are oddly arranged, as though thrown together at random; it is being woven at present, and is made by no means such as a conservative taste would fully approve. They are made up of dan's or patches of all sorts of colors, seldom contrasting or harmonizing, broken up in a manner which is of special significance, and no real beauty or effect. They are highly colored oddities, and often look not unlike the jumbled sweepings of a carpet fitting room. Those which are most irregular in all respects have the call with some people."

"The Turkish goods come direct from Smyrna, and some of them are very fine. They are quiet and tasteful in color, and their figures are good and well arranged. Some of the tints are very bright, and the characters are well defined, with heavy colors as the general run of Oriental goods. They command about the same price as the rest when of first quality. It is from Turkey that we get the Coula rug and carpet. These are also cheap, and the manufacturers assay London Assurance or The Pirals, but this high class of comedy always brings despair to the persons playing them; for they can only be properly acted by well-trained actors. One is a scene from a comedy which I have heard of, and the others are from a secret. Among the Egyptians there was a criminal offence to divulge a secret. A priest, who had been found guilty of his offense, was ordered to leave the country.

"Have you another?" "Yes, I have. A confiding friend may tell you a hundred things, which, if whispered abroad, would bring him into contempt and ridicule, and injure his character through life. No one is so upright that he may not have committed a secret. The king of Macedon, while the Albaans were at war with Philip, King of Macedonia, they intercepted a letter that he had written to his wife Olympias. He was taken to the court, and cast into prison. His wife Olympias was returned to her home, and was instantly killed."

"Eighty years ago, Mrs. Eva Brown of Albany, N. Y., was nearly bitten by a dog."

"Gruber H. Paw, the special policeman who has been working for Middletown's fire department, has been working for a long time, and the miners have paid him a fine sum."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so that he could make a handle of it to his injury."

"The Conqueror, of New Haven, Conn., has agreed to pay him $23. The operators say that he has got a large sum of money, so

FRIDAY, NOV. 10, 1882.

All Around The Hub.

We often hear the remark that lawyers must, from the very nature of their business, frequently advocate what they know to be wrong, and consequently that a lawyer cannot be honest and successful. It has always been a matter of wonder to us how a man can plead a case against his own convictions, and yet some of the most brilliant lawyers have been made by lawyers when defending persons whom they knew were guilty. It is related of Rufus Choate that when called upon to undertake the defense of Professor Webster, he declined to do so unless Webster would tell him the truth in regard to the affair. He was satisfied that Webster did kill Dr. Parkman, but if the criminal would have been open with the great lawyer, Choate would have so wrought upon the jury that no verdict of guilty of murder would have been rendered. It is a pretty nice question to decide how much a man is justified in defending for money and attempting to clear from punishment a person he is convinced is guilty or in a civil suit to take the part of the wronger against the wronged. We don't believe that lawyers as a class are any less honest than any other class of men, but they must, in order to be successful, accept fees in cases which they feel they ought not to win.

THE GREAT FIRE.

Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the great fire which on the night of November 9th, 1872, destroyed most of the business portion of Boston. The loss was estimated at nearly one hundred millions of dollars.

Nearly every firm engaged in the wholesale boot and shoe and dry goods business lost not only their stores but all their stocks.

Ten years ago this morning Boston presented a sorry appearance.

Nearly the whole district from Summer street to State street and from Washington street to the harbor was covered with a mass of smoking ruins, and the lines of every street in the district were entirely obliterated.

The origin of the fire was never certainly known, and it will forever remain a mystery what caused it to spread so rapidly in every direction.

There were rumors that when the flames had gained such headway that the fire department had not the least control over them, fires were purposely set, but that is not at all probable.

The streets were narrow and the flames literally leaped across them.

Every insurance company in the city was ruined, and hosts of people who were comfortably off at six o'clock on Saturday evening, who owned not a dollar's worth of property in the burned district, were penniless before six o'clock Sunday morning, for they held insurance stock which was entirely wiped out.

Assistance was promptly offered from all over the country, but the people of Boston with what some regarded as almost foolish independence, declined to accept any.

There must have been an immense amount of individual suffering, and, as we have said, many were made poor by the failure of the insurance companies, but the fire proved an actual benefit to the city and to its business.

The narrow, crooked streets were straightened and widened, and the new buildings both in appearance and convenience were vastly superior to those that were destroyed.

One cannot realize today that ten years ago at least nine-tenths of the business firms in Boston had no goods to sell and no place to sell any.

One thing was noted as greatly to the credit of Boston merchants, that though the losses by the fire amounted to nearly one hundred million and that much of the insurance was worthless, very few failures were reported, and we doubt if a single firm took advantage of the fire to evade paying their debts.

THE THEATRES.

With our two theatre trains a week, Tuesday and Friday nights, and the afternoon performances on Wednesday and Saturday, many readers along the shore are interested in being informed as to what is going on at the various theatres.

At the Boston Museum the season has opened with the production of the Romany Rye. The title is of itself a puzzler. The plot from the commencement to the end is of absorbing interest; the scenery, painted expressly for this play, is amply superb, and many of the situations have never been equalled in dramatic or scenic effect in this country.

Entertainment.

The monologue entertainment given by Miss Helen Potter at the Union church, last Friday evening, attracted a large audience, nearly every seat in the house being occupied.

Miss Potter's impersonations of different public speakers were surprisingly accurate, the well known apostle of temperance, John B. Gough, in particular, being depicted to the life, and one of his addresses was given as none but Gough can present it. The coat, vest, hat and tie were Gough's in life, and the great temperance orator was well mimed.

Miss Potter's readings were given with great ability, and her entire entertainment was received with the heartiest applause.

The addition of a musical entertainment by home talent was also a source of pleasure to the audience, who generously applauded the performers. It consisted of a Grand March, on the organ, by Mr. Frank O. Nash, the Flower Song, from Faust, by Miss Josie Dowse, and Millard's "Ave Maria" by Miss Fannie W. Sprague, with tenor obligato, by Mr. A. B. Vining.

G. A. Fair.

It is proposed to make the coming Grand Army Fair the largest and most successful one ever held in this State, and to that end the efforts of all interested are being directed. The event occurs next May, and it is proposed to hold the fair ten days. Of course everybody will lend a helping hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherman started on their southern trip Thursday morning. A large number of friends were at the depot to see them off, and bade them bon voyage.

The entire vote of the State for Governor was for Butler, 132,678; Bishop, 119,020; Almon, 1,769; Ames, for Lieut. Goyen, a plurality of 15,143.

Avalanche Performance.

Many wonder how Parker's Ginger Troupe can perform such varied tricks, thinking it essence of ginger, when in fact it is made from many valuable medicines which act beneficially on every diseased organ.

LOCAL TOPICS.

THE ELECTION.

To the surprise of many voters, the election of last Tuesday was a walk over for Gen'l B. F. Butler, who was chosen as Governor of the Commonwealth by a plurality of 13,638, the rest of the officials chosen being Republicans. From this overturn it is evident that the vote of the people was due to an unpopular candidate being put up by the Republican party, more than to popular opposition to its principles, the result being as in New York—where multitudes of Republicans voted the Democratic ticket, etc.

Another surprise is the result of the Representative election in the 5th Norfolk district, Quincy having secured the three representatives to the General Court. We have had time to analyze the vote to ascertain the reasons underlying this unexpected result, but it is a matter of much comment and dissatisfaction in Weymouth. The friends of Messrs. Cushing and Bicknell worked zealously in their interests, but whether their defeat is due to "scratching" in Quincy, as some assert, or honest negligence, it is related of Rufus Choate that when called upon to undertake the defense of Professor Webster, he declined to do so unless Webster would tell him the truth in regard to the affair. He was satisfied that Webster did kill Dr. Parkman, but if the criminal would have been open with the great lawyer, Choate would have so wrought upon the jury that no verdict of guilty of murder would have been rendered. It is a pretty nice question to decide how much a man is justified in defending for money and attempting to clear from punishment a person he is convinced is guilty or in a civil suit to take the part of the wronger against the wronged. We don't believe that lawyers as a class are any less honest than any other class of men, but they must, in order to be successful, accept fees in cases which they feel they ought not to win.

Another surprised party was Col. Benj. S. Lovell, of Weymouth, the Republican candidate for Senator, who had at the slightest suspicion that ten hundred and sixty-one of the voters of Weymouth would cast their ballot in his favor, carrying him a long ways ahead of the general ticket. As in the case of Gen'l Butler, personal popularity accomplished the result, and of course the popular Colonel is highly gratified with this expression of friend-ship.

The ballot in this town for the various candidates is given below.

GOVERNOR.—Robert R. Bishop, 750; Benjamin F. Butler, of Lowell, 941; Elias Amy, of New Bedford, 53.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR.—Oliver Ames, of Easton, 817; Samuel D. Brewster, of Pittsfield, 856; John Blachier, of Springfield, 511; George L. Bowes, of New Haven, 820; John C. Conant, of Abington, 820; David N. Shillings, of Winchendon, 840; Solomon F. Root, of Douglas, 50; John Howes, of Worcester, 20.

THE RELEASER AND RECEIVER GENERAL.—Daniel A. Gleason, of Melrose, 829; William A. Hodges, of Quincy, 849; Thos J. Lothrop, of Taunton, 50; Geo. Foster, of Lynn, 30.

ATTORNEY.—Charles R. Ladd, of Springfield, 827; John P. Sweeney, of Boston, 582; Jonathan Buck, of Harwich, 50; Augustus L. Merchant, of Leverett, 29.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Edgar J. Sher, of Lawrence, 827; George F. Perry, of Worcester, 845; Samuel M. Field, of Malden, 51; Elmer A. Snow, of Athol, 29.

COUNCIL.—Nathaniel Wales, of Stoughton, 822; Henry Gardner, of Braintree, 26; Peter Butler, of Quincy, 856; Timothy A. Smith, of Westboro, 51.

REPRESENTATIVE TO CONGRESS.—Daniel A. Gleason, of Melrose, 829; William A. Hodges, of Quincy, 849; Thos J. Lothrop, of Taunton, 50; Geo. Foster, of Lynn, 30.

STATE SENATOR.—Benjamin S. Lovell, of Weymouth, 1601; Oliver C. Drinkwater of Braintree, 590; Charles E. Pratt, of Revere, 820; George Ellis, of Dorchester, 29.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—Everett C. Bunker, of Weymouth, 845; John F. Simmons of Hingham, 797; George F. Perry, of Lawrence, 827; Jonathan Buck, of Harwich, 50; Augustus L. Merchant, of Leverett, 29.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Edgar J. Sher, of Lawrence, 827; George F. Perry, of Worcester, 845; Samuel M. Field, of Malden, 51; Elmer A. Snow, of Athol, 29.

REPRESENTATIVE TO CONGRESS.—John Long, of Hingham, 845; George E. Dunn, of Rockland, 27; Edgar E. Durst, of Braintree, 26; Peter Butler, of Quincy, 856; Timothy A. Smith, of Westboro, 51.

COUNTY TREASURER.—Chauncey C. Chapman, of Dedham, 811; Joel F. Goodwin, of Walpole, 51; (To fill vacan- cy) Q. A. Palmer, of Weymouth, 845; and Jonathan C. Parker, of Weymouth, 845.

STATE SENATOR.—Benjamin S. Lovell, of Weymouth, 1601; Oliver C. Drinkwater of Braintree, 590; Charles E. Pratt, of Revere, 820; George Ellis, of Dorchester, 29.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bicknell, of Weymouth, 842; George A. Cushing, of Weymouth, 904; William G. Parker, of Quincy, 856; John N. Eaton, of Quincy, 883; George W. Dyer, of Weymouth, 32; Charles Lloyd, of Weymouth, 38; Edward Cleverly, of Weymouth, 79; James Edwards, of Quincy, 99.

REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL COURT.—George A. Barker, of Quincy, 814; Francis A. Bick assortment of FANCY

POTS.

POTS, Also,
KETS, ns & Hooks.

American Medicinal CONDITION FOOD.

COMPANY,
Weymouth Landing.

CEIVED, RTMENT OF
omforters,
NELS.
Children's Underwear,
N LINE OF Cloths,
AND UPWARD.

SMITH,
South Weymouth.

er's Friend.

KINDS of CLOTHING, RENTED ONLY BY North Weymouth, Mass.

EIGHT SHOP.
nity to announce to the outh and vicinity that I mately occupied by Waldo

AND REPAIRING OF IAGES,

do the work of all who atraction, in a satisfactory able prices.

F. TURNER.

Extra Quality

CUSTOM SUITS

Full Line of ishing Goods,

AT

ARS.

st., - Weymouth,

DOWDITCH,

AT THE

ICK STORE,

TON SQUARE,

LARGE STOCK of Goods and Groceries

TURE, & C.

ices as LOW as the LOWest.

omptly Free of Charge, and Sat. $.

s. Guaranteed.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

AT HOBART & WORSTER'S,
LINCOLN SQUARE, . . . WEYMOUTH.
CAN BE FOUND A LARGE VARIETY OF FEATHER TURBAN HATS,
At Extremely Low Prices! from
$1.25 to $3.00.

These hats were purchased direct from the manufacturers, and are of the best quality and CHOICEST SELECTIONS.

Also, Tam O'Shanter Hats, at 50 Cts. each.

1882. MILLINERY. 1883.

Ladies of East Weymouth and vicinity will find a good assortment of FALL and WINTER STYLES at the millinery rooms of

MRS. A. A. SALISBURY,
55 BROAD STREET, - EAST WEMYOUTH.

RE-STOCKED.

Having purchased of Mr. Joseph Sherman his Coal and Grain business, I shall keep constantly on hand a full stock of Lackawanna, Shamokin, Franklin and Cumberland

COALS!

PINE AND HARD WOOD, SLABS,
Flour, Grain, Hay,
Straw, Lime, Cement, Brick, Laths, Hair, Sand, Fence Rails and Posts. Wood sawed and split.

With the LOWEST market prices, FAIR DEALING, and strict attention to business, I hope to merit and would solicit your patronage

E. A. BIGELOW.

Wharf and East Sts., East Weymouth. Open from half-past six in the morning until half-past seven at night. Wednesday night closed at six o'clock. Order Box at Post Office. All orders promptly attended to.

BRAINTREE.

Mr. Caleb Stetson took his departure for his winter home in the state of Georgia, on Monday morning.

Moxley, one of the principal foremen at the works of the Columbia Rubber Company, left on Friday to take a lucrative position with the Para Company at Framingham. This speaks well for Mr. Moxley's abilities, as the offer of this position came to him unsought.

Improvement. Eugene Hollis is enlarging and improving his residence, outside and inside by putting on an addition on the back end and one on the south side, the latter to be surmounted by a tower.

Petition. A petition is in circulation praying the town to view and lay out a public highway connecting the village of Weymouth with the house of Joseph Williams, residing at a point near the residence of Theodore Edson, thus connecting Commercial street, with Union street, saving a very bad corner for all who wish to reach South Braintree, from a large portion of the East village and an improvement very much needed.

Holiday. The selectmen met at the East Braintree station and proceeded to view a route for a highway to connect that portion of the town in the vicinity of Eliot street with the main portions, after which they had a hearing, and it is hoped that a large audience will greet and welcome her, as she comes to them for the first time.

Cost. A person, wishing to test the merits of a good Kennedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Chest—will be received on call at 107 Weymouth Street. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar size bottle will do.

Frank A. Spear, at his new tailoring establishment on Washington street, is giving a steady patronage, and all in want of nice, serviceable garments at moderate rates, should give him a call.

Those desiring to make the household bright and cheery during the long winter evenings which are about coming on, will visit Jones, McDuffee & Stratton, Boston and purchase a Duplex or Moderate Lamp from their fine stock, which has been gleaned from the potteries of Japan, China, England, France, etc. For bridal gifts Duplex lamps are on the list of correct things.

"NOTHING LIKE IT." So remarked one of our most successful physicians the other day, speaking of Percuro Cough Syrup. "It has completely cured my servant girl, one of the most obstinate cases of cough ever brought to my notice."

Healthily Recommended. Don't condemn a good thing because you have been deceived by worthless nostrums. Parker's Ginger Tonic has cured many in this section of nervous disorders, and we recommend it heartily to sufferers.—Newspaper.

Mr. F. A. Sutin has dressed the windows of his dry goods store on Lincoln square in attractive manner, and the variety of goods, laid before him that he has stocked up with a large assortment of articles for fall trade.

Frank A. Spear, at his new tailoring establishment on Washington street, is giving a steady patronage, and all in want of nice, serviceable garments at moderate rates, should give him a call.

Those desiring to make the household bright and cheery during the long winter evenings which are about coming on, will visit Jones, McDuffee & Stratton, Boston and purchase a Duplex or Moderate Lamp from their fine stock, which has been gleaned from the potteries of Japan, China, England, France, etc. For bridal gifts Duplex lamps are on the list of correct things.

"NOTHING LIKE IT." So remarked one of our most successful physicians the other day, speaking of Percuro Cough Syrup. "It has completely cured my servant girl, one of the most obstinate cases of cough ever brought to my notice."

Healthily Recommended. Don't condemn a good thing because you have been deceived by worthless nostrums. Parker's Ginger Tonic has cured many in this section of nervous disorders, and we recommend it heartily to sufferers.—Newspaper.

Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly nearing completion is somewhat larger than that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of purposes. It is a handsome structure and will contribute to the village of South Braintree.

Entertainment. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the E. Braintree social and literary club will give an entertainment in the Hall in Main Street's building, consisting of reading, singing, and other appropriate exercises. It comes as low as the lowest.

Guaranteed.

In Weymouth, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Representative to General Court, Morrison 308, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly

nearing completion is somewhat larger than that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor

while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of purposes. It is a handsome structure and will contribute to the village of South Braintre-

ee.

Entertainment. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the E. Braintree social and literary club will give an entertainment in the Hall in Main Street's building, consisting of reading, singing, and other appropriate exercises. It comes as low as the lowest.

Guaranteed.

In Weymouth, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Representative to General Court, Morrison 308, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly

nearing completion is somewhat larger than

that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor

while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of purposes. It is a handsome structure and will contribute to the village of South Braintre-

ee.

Entertainment. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the E. Braintree social and literary club will give an entertainment in the Hall in Main Street's building, consisting of reading, singing, and other appropriate exercises. It comes as low as the lowest.

Guaranteed.

In Weymouth, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Representative to General Court, Morrison 308, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly

nearing completion is somewhat larger than

that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor

while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of purposes. It is a handsome structure and will contribute to the village of South Braintre-

ee.

Entertainment. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the E. Braintree social and literary club will give an entertainment in the Hall in Main Street's building, consisting of reading, singing, and other appropriate exercises. It comes as low as the lowest.

Guaranteed.

In Weymouth, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Representative to General Court, Morrison 308, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly

nearing completion is somewhat larger than

that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor

while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of purposes. It is a handsome structure and will contribute to the village of South Braintre-

ee.

Entertainment. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, the E. Braintree social and literary club will give an entertainment in the Hall in Main Street's building, consisting of reading, singing, and other appropriate exercises. It comes as low as the lowest.

Guaranteed.

In Weymouth, Nov. 15, by Rev. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. Frank A. Sutin, of Weymouth, to Mrs. Nellie, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Representative to General Court, Morrison 308, Hobart 354, Mayhew 2.

Vote of Norfolk county representative district No. 6, including the towns of Holbrook and Braintree, Morrison 570, Hobart 554, Mayhew 2, Thayer 2.

Billing. The new Holbrook Block, now rapidly

nearing completion is somewhat larger than

that recently burned, being extensive to accommodate four stores on the ground floor

while the upper part is divided off into apartments suitable for a variety of pur-

PARK AND WOOGHOLD.

INTERESTED IN FARMERS.

On very many here are who poor species of ground which will not be greatly benefited by a top dressing of manure at this season to be washed into the soil and melted snow. Our gardeners the measure for seeds pasture can be found around the stables or in the hayards.

In favor of farming it may be truly said that a greater proportion of those who begin working on a farm rise to compete in moderate wealth than in any other pursuit. The cost of living is low but the temptations to dissipation in the rural districts are much less than in cities.

A dusting sheet should be in every poultry yard. It may be a few feet square, according to the number of birds, with no sponges, a good water proof coat. A heap of dry ashes should be put under this, and it will soon be seen how much the fowls appreciate it. Now fowls fly covered with insects, and a few drops of oil will alone keep them away. Dry ashes should be used; wet material is no good.

Corn given to fowls should be crushed and soaked in water; this helps digestion. Hen's feed will lay in winter that would not otherwise. If fowls are fed in winter with bones powdered fine, they will lay more and have a particularly long season of eggs.

The composition of young girls for application in the English postal service is increasing. At an examination to test the qualifications of applicants a fortnight ago there were eight hundred candidates for thirty places. The salary was very small, beginning at only $2.50 a week.

Rosa Bonheur is sixty-two years old. Her sisters and brothers are all sculptors and animal painters. She was a masculine dress, the better to go among animals. She is the only woman animal painter who has had a studio which Engaged one day bought her, the next at the same time conferring knighted upon her.

A pretty wail pocket, or sort of hanging basket, is made of a common fan, not so called Japanese fan, but one which holds the sticks together by the handles, then spread the fan, and fasten on the two outer sticks together, then wind a piece of wire a rib over this, and make a bow with short ends. The handle by which it hangs is made of a piece of wood of the same width with each end fastened at each side of the pocket with a small bow.

Various cases of poisoning from the use of perfumes have been reported in recent English journals. In one instance a little girl had become unconscious after a bath, and had applied it to her face. This caused a vesicular eruption, swelling, itching, and, in fact, vesicles, which lasted for some time. The scat was made with some of the products of sandal, and not with the common sandal, pink, pale, thus preventing its irritating properties.

Ramnala Sankrati is a very learned East Indian young lady, twenty-four years of age, who has acquired a profound knowledge of Sanscrit, Mahat, Kansare, Hindostan, Bengalee and English. She has written a book which will be half of female education, and in one of these speeches she laid great stress on a fact interesting to American ladies who have adopted the profession of midwives.

These men have the utmost faith in pelvic credibility. One of them asserted that white sand "had fertilizing qualities," and elsewhere he asserts that the poorest lands need no fertilizing.

Care of Toes.

The wearing out of farm implements is, as a rule, due more to neglect than to use. If tools can be well taken care of, it will pay to buy those made of the best steel, and finished in the best manner; but in case of tools, and with implements, such as hoes, rakes, etc., Iron and steel parts should be cleaned with dry- and a cob, or scraped with a piece of soft iron, washed and oiled if necessary, and in a day or two cleaned off with the corn-cob and dried.

Fruit trees should be pruned and trained, and boughs, in the proportion of four of ro, to one of wax, motted together and applied hot. Wood-work should be painted with good, boiled linseed oil, while lead and turpentine colors of any desired tint. Boiled oil and turpentine should be used to answer instead of paint. Many persons saturate the wood work of farm implements with crude petroleum.—Agri-

Curious Roots.

While fruit growers are aware now that the roots of trees and plants extend far beyond the surface, still it is difficult to know what is from the old habit of mounding about the trunk, trusting that somehow or other the fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread broadcast it may some way become lost.

It will be difficult to place manure in an orchard, as the roots of the plants will not reach it, and if properly spread it will not be lost. Should it sink into the subsoil the roots will follow it and bring it back by the ear, as a teacher would a truant schoolboy. We have observed that the roots of trees and shrubs extend about ten feet.

We recently followed the roots of an old grape vine twenty feet under the location of a defunct building. When we stopped digging, the roots were as thick as our fingers, were four feet beneath the surface, and probably extended ten feet farther. A pile of manure about the base of this vine would have done but little good. Knowing the extent and habit of root growth, it is apparent that cultivation close about the trunk is not a wise practice.

To be stirred up, to come together; to keep it at, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

So long as men and women are weak, and with a few exceptions, still kept their strength about the trunk, trusting that somehow or other the fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread broadcast it may some way become lost.

It will be difficult to place manure in an orchard, as the roots of the plants will not reach it, and if properly spread it will not be lost. Should it sink into the subsoil the roots will follow it and bring it back by the ear, as a teacher would a truant schoolboy. We have observed that the roots of trees and shrubs extend about ten feet.

We recently followed the roots of an old grape vine twenty feet under the location of a defunct building. When we stopped digging, the roots were as thick as our fingers, were four feet beneath the surface, and probably extended ten feet farther. A pile of manure about the base of this vine would have done but little good. Knowing the extent and habit of root growth, it is apparent that cultivation close about the trunk is not a wise practice.

To be stirred up, to come together; to keep it at, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

So long as men and women are weak, and with a few exceptions, still kept their strength about the trunk, trusting that somehow or other the fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread broadcast it may some way become lost.

It will be difficult to place manure in an orchard, as the roots of the plants will not reach it, and if properly spread it will not be lost. Should it sink into the subsoil the roots will follow it and bring it back by the ear, as a teacher would a truant schoolboy. We have observed that the roots of trees and shrubs extend about ten feet.

We recently followed the roots of an old grape vine twenty feet under the location of a defunct building. When we stopped digging, the roots were as thick as our fingers, were four feet beneath the surface, and probably extended ten feet farther. A pile of manure about the base of this vine would have done but little good. Knowing the extent and habit of root growth, it is apparent that cultivation close about the trunk is not a wise practice.

To be stirred up, to come together; to keep it at, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

So long as men and women are weak, and with a few exceptions, still kept their strength about the trunk, trusting that somehow or other the fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread broadcast it may some way become lost.

It will be difficult to place manure in an orchard, as the roots of the plants will not reach it, and if properly spread it will not be lost. Should it sink into the subsoil the roots will follow it and bring it back by the ear, as a teacher would a truant schoolboy. We have observed that the roots of trees and shrubs extend about ten feet.

We recently followed the roots of an old grape vine twenty feet under the location of a defunct building. When we stopped digging, the roots were as thick as our fingers, were four feet beneath the surface, and probably extended ten feet farther. A pile of manure about the base of this vine would have done but little good. Knowing the extent and habit of root growth, it is apparent that cultivation close about the trunk is not a wise practice.

To be stirred up, to come together; to keep it at, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

So long as men and women are weak, and with a few exceptions, still kept their strength about the trunk, trusting that somehow or other the fertilizer will be appropriated, and fearing that if spread broadcast it may some way become lost.

It will be difficult to place manure in an orchard, as the roots of the plants will not reach it, and if properly spread it will not be lost. Should it sink into the subsoil the roots will follow it and bring it back by the ear, as a teacher would a truant schoolboy. We have observed that the roots of trees and shrubs extend about ten feet.

We recently followed the roots of an old grape vine twenty feet under the location of a defunct building. When we stopped digging, the roots were as thick as our fingers, were four feet beneath the surface, and probably extended ten feet farther. A pile of manure about the base of this vine would have done but little good. Knowing the extent and habit of root growth, it is apparent that cultivation close about the trunk is not a wise practice.

To be stirred up, to come together; to keep it at, to pay out your money—these four things mean business that will be profitable.

into the mine, also a little pepper and salt. Have ready a well-boiled rice, and, when hot, stir a spoonful or two into the mince, add a little pepper and salt, and let it be known to all. Slightly butter the inside of a tin can shape, or any baking dish, strew it over with fresh bread-crums, fill it with the meat, cover it with a few more bread-crums, and bake it in the oven for a golden brown. It looks like a fried onion, or a little ketchup stirred into the mince; it is the best of meat or chicken, a great improvement, or a few drops of anchovy sauce, if fish.

INTERESTING TO WOMEN.

Paris is setting women a snobbish fashion in dispensing with high-heeled shoes. Flat soles are to be the order hereafter, and women will be able to walk without a rotary motion.

Teresa Tsu, the child violinist, who has become so popular in Germany since she was applauded by Joachim, is about to make her first appearance in the United States. The French make their own, yet most are made in Paris, and collared, brocade waist-coats may be worn with a silk skirt, and a contrast color may relieve any apparent monotony.

Short jackets, trimmed with Brandy-colored velvet, will be the order hereafter, and women will be able to walk without a rotary motion.

The composition of young girls for application in the English postal service is increasing. At an examination to test the qualifications of applicants a fortnight ago there were eight hundred candidates for thirty places. The salary was very small, beginning at only $2.50 a week.

Rosa Bonheur is sixty-two years old. Her sisters and brothers are all sculptors and animal painters. She was a masculine dress, the better to go among animals. She is the only woman animal painter who has had a studio which Engaged one day bought her, the next at the same time conferring knighted upon her.

A pretty wail pocket, or sort of hanging basket, is made of a common fan, not so called Japanese fan, but one which holds the sticks together by the handles, then spread the fan, and fasten on the two outer sticks together, then wind a piece of wire a rib over this, and make a bow with short ends. The handle by which it hangs is made of a piece of wood of the same width with each end fastened at each side of the pocket with a small bow.

Hammered jewelry is the novelty of the month. The French make them, yet most are made in Paris, and collared, brocade waist-coats may be worn with a silk skirt, and a contrast color may relieve any apparent monotony.

A little boy went to a shop for some soap. He had made one of the characters live too long after receiving a certain wound. "True," replied the wit, "but you should recollect he was not attended by a doctor."

A lady put her watch under her pillow the other night, but couldn't keep it there, because it disturbed her sleep. And there all the time was her bed-licking right under her, and she never thought of it at all.

A little boy went to a shop for some soap. He had made one of the characters live too long after receiving a certain wound. "True," replied the wit, "but you should recollect he was not attended by a doctor."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

A quiet old minister was once asked what he thought of his two sons who were both preachers. "Well," he said, "I think George has better show in his shop window than John, but John is a larger stock in his workshop."

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1882.

All Around The Hub.

POLITICS LOVE-FEAST.

The Republican-Democratic-Prohibition-Greenback-Woman Suffrage-Labor Reform gathering at North Easton last Tuesday evening, in response to the invitation of Lieutenant Governor elect Oliver Ames, invited to his friends in the Second Congressional District, was in the words of the chairman, A. Gilmore, Esq., a "royal good time," and the appearance of orators of every political stripe upon the platform, addressing a large company of voters of all shades of opinion in most happy and hilarious manner, in which sharp thrusts of humor were given and taken, with peculiar relish to the audience, produced one of the most singular and interesting occasions of a political aspect which it has ever been our fortune to attend.

One grand outcrop of this gathering, we believe, was the complete vindication of the character of the elder Oakes Ames from the aspersions and slanders with which he was assailed on account of his connection with the Union Pacific railroad, in which he had made large investments of his fortunes, from the conviction that this transcontinental monument to his memory would so dim in blinding the sections of the country together that north, south, east and west would in the future have no sectional significance. To his integrity of purpose and honesty of character the speakers of all parties bore testimony Tuesday evening, and in this particular the occasion was one of marked interest and profit. That the Ames Juniors are worthy sons of worthy sires, the town of Easton bears witness, not only in its beautiful Memorial Hall and Public Library, donated to the town by the generosity of the family, but in the great industry which has carried the family name to the remotest corners of the earth. Their enterprise and generous dealing with labor has made the place which might well be termed a paradise for workmen, and that another Ames should be called to seats of power and responsibility in the state and nation, is but a natural result of worthy life and action.

The towns comprising the 2d Congressional District were all largely represented at the gathering and when the train arrived at the station the North Easton Band headed a long procession, and a march was made to the elegant residence of Hon. Oliver Ames, the grounds of which were brilliantly illuminated with lanterns and torches. After a reception at the residence, where Gen. Butler, Gov. Long, and other prominent state officials were present, the guests repaired to the Oakes Ames Memorial Hall, where dinner, dancing, and a march were made by the band.

After the dinner, the band marched to the hall in the engine hall. Wad 3d was Wednesday afternoon, and at the meeting on Wednesday next, at the same place, final arrangements of appointing committees for the fair, etc., will be made, and all interested are requested to be present.

LOCAL TOPICS.

Presentations.

At the Suffolk County G. A. Fair one of the articles offered for sale was a handsome case with a carved head of Gen. Butler's pines, the production of a veteran at the Togus Soldier's Home, in Maine. The case was purchased by Mr. Long and presented to Col. S. Lovell, of this town, as a mark of esteem, and the gift is of course highly valued by the Colonel, who, though he may not be called to a place on Gov. Butler's staff, will have a staff of his own in the future.

The Parish.

Rev. John Crane preached in the Baptist church last Sunday, presenting a very acceptable discourse and which was well delivered. Mr. Crane has made very acceptable progress in his calling since his connection with the Theological Seminary, and it would not be surprising if he should some day be called upon to fill the office of pastor here. At the close of his sermon he read a letter from the pastor of the church, Rev. P. A. Norell, resigning his charge, to take effect the last Sunday of the present month. Mr. Norell is an able preacher, and the church in New London, Ct., to which he has been called, will secure a pastor who will give them excellent service.

Suspense.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo H. Loud were surprised at their residence on Front street last evening, by a large party of friends and neighbors, who had assembled to congratulate the couple on the 31st anniversary of their marriage. Several handsome presents were bestowed by the party, the presentation address being made by Mrs. Carrie E. Loring, of East Braintree. She was responded to in heartfelt manner by Mr. Loud. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, and fruit were served to the visitors, and the occasion was one of much pleasure to all present. The gifts comprised a glass fruit dish by Mrs. L. M. Pratt, tea pot by Rev. Mr. Jerome, and an elegant silver cake basket and silver spoons, the basket and spoons being the gifts of the following friends:

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pease, Wm. Wallace, G. C. Nichols, Dr. A. P. Nash, J. E. Hunt, H. L. Hunt, E. A. and W. W. Den, H. H. Loud, Geo. P. Niles, A. T. Cushing, Miss S. Clapp, Mr. W. H. Clapp, Mr. B. J. Loring, Mrs. Carrie Loring, Mr. Wm. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hayden.

Cemetery Fair.

The ladies connected with the Village Cemetery Sewing Circle are actively engaged in preparing articles for the approaching fair to be held in aid of the fund for improvement of the Cemetery grounds.

A large number of ladies were present at the regular meeting held in the engine hall. Wad 3d was Wednesday afternoon, and at the meeting on Wednesday next, at the same place, final arrangements of appointing committees for the fair, etc., will be made, and all interested are requested to be present.

Methodists Socialite.

A large crowd was in attendance at the social held by the Methodists at their hall, East Braintree, on Wednesday evening, more than could be conveniently accommodated. It consisted of an entertainment and sale of fancy articles for the purpose of raising money to defray expenses. It was a success in every respect. Twenty dollars was taken at the door and articles sold brought the total sum up to sixty dollars. The entertainment consisted of readings and songs as follows: Song; Helen and Anna Elton; reading, Nellie Bowles; Nellie Miller; reading, Mrs. Lord; song, Alice Miller; reading, Lou Clark; song, Anna Quigley; reading, Ida Hayden; song, Maie Quartette; reading, Minnie Whiting; reading, Mr. Denfield; song, Susie Allen, violin accompaniment by John V. Allen.

North Weymouth.

The North Weymouth Cemetery Association was opened Wednesday afternoon in the vestry of the Methodist church, under the most pleasant auspices. The attendance in the afternoon was fully as large as was expected, and the larger part of the time was spent in the arrangement of the tables, and other preliminary work, and the appearance of the vestry at evening drew near very inviting. The long tables stretching the entire length of both sides of the hall, were beautifully supplied with fancy articles, toys, aprons, etc., while a table across the east end was laden with dolls and confectionery. The cup and saucer table was also quite an attraction, and the display was very elaborate. Behind these tables, the ladies of the association were installed, and their smiling faces gave evidence that to their minds the fair was already an assured success.

In the evening the people began to gather fast, and by eight o'clock the large vestry was filled with a brilliant throng, who liberally patronized the different tables, seeming determined to make the affair as successful financially as possible.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Howard Loud is again confined to his home with sickness.

Miss Abby Loud was recently the recipient of a piano from her parents.

Mr. Francis Loud has a bright blooming son, which blossomed last Sunday evening.

The yachts in Weymouth fore river are being removed for the winter.

Something remarkable for this season of the year is that of a rose bush in blossom in the front yard of Mr. Chapin Thayer's home on Front street.

A lady visiting at Mr. John Dalton's fell down a flight of stairs last Friday evening, but escaped injury. When we consider her weight, which about 225 lbs., we think it was a wonderful escape.

Bryant & Bailey are to build an addition to their store building.

A horse road, preserved in alcohol, is on exhibition at Wyman's Drug Store.

The replanking of the platform around the pump at Lincoln square is needed very badly, as all the slip runs back into the well.

The marriage of Miss Emma Blanchard, daughter of Drs. Alonzo Blanchard, and Charles LeSauve, son of Thomas B. Seebury, all of this place, will take place Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving, 5th inst.

Misses Hattie and Jessie King, who have been visiting with Mr. Samuel King, will return to their home at Littleton, N. H., in a few days.

Mr. Frank W. Nash is moving into his new house.

A foot race between Messrs. McQuiggin and Crossley, two well known runners, will take place at the Park, South Weymouth, tomorrow afternoon.

Misses Hattie and Jessie King, who have been visiting with Mr. Samuel King, will return to their home at Littleton, N. H., in a few days.

Mr. Wallace Clapp, who recently sold his house, will remove to Walnut avenue.

The Gazette is for sale at Lovell's corner store.

Business at the establishment of Mr. George F. Butler is rushing, he having all he can attend to.

E. G. Tirrell still continues to close his Thursday evenings, at six o'clock, as was the custom during the summer months.

There will be a baptism at the Epiphany church next Sunday.

It is reported about town that two well known gentlemen of East Weymouth are to commence the manufacturing of boots and shoes, and will occupy the factory to be vacated by Mr. Edwin Clapp.

Mr. Herbert Mellish still continues to grow weaker, and it is feared that blood poisoning has set in.

Messrs. Louis Nash and Francis Hunt had a little surprise party near the toll bridge one night this week, the result being the burying of their clothes and their carriage robe, their enemy being too strong in the church.

Mr. W. J. Loring will occupy the new store on Washington square for a general depot and stationery store.

Mrs. Wm. Bowditch, at her home in East Weymouth, on Tuesday, fell down stairs but was fortunate enough to escape with some bruises.

Poisoned.

We are happy to learn that our former townsmen, Dr. F. L. Forsyth, of Providence R. I., has recovered from the effects of a singular case of poisoning, which occurred to him recently. He had partaken of a meal at a restaurant in company with a friend, and after eating with violence, had suffered intensely all night.

Dr. P. thinks there was arsenic in some of the food, but as the restaurant proprietor had nothing of that nature on the premises, the affair is a mystery to all concerned.

Bucklin's Arches Salve.

The BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts,

Bruises, Burns, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum,

Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions,

and particularly Cervical Piles. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

Price 25 cents per box. For sale at Gay's and Wyman's drug stores.

N. M.

CHYNOVETTE'S SHOW at Brigham.

The second grand display of chrysanthemums and the annual Farmers' Festival were held at Agricultural Hall, Wednesday evening. The number of plants was much larger, the plants were generally much superior, and the arrangement to show them to advantage was much better than last year, but time and space do not allow of our giving this week a full list of the contributors and of the varieties as we like to give them.

At about half-past eight the company gathered in the upper hall, fell into line, and to the music of Stetson's orchestra, marched down into the lower hall where a bountiful supper was awaiting them, consisting of baked beans, Indian pudding, brown and white bread, cheese, pies, and tea and coffee. Upon the table on the platform was a roasted pig.

President Ripley in a very few words invited the company to partake of what was before them, which they did with a relish. Plates were laid for four hundred and we believe every seat at the table was occupied.

After all had eaten as much as they wanted, Mr. Ripley announced as the next thing upon the programme the hearing of essays, etc., from members of his class in Agriculture who had been under his instruction for about two years. His remarks were very humorous and created much amusement. He first called upon John D. Long, who responded by reading a boy's composition on the spot; Mr. Bishop's career as an agriculturist and his positive in forming others in this field.

Mr. Niles Clapp, who was unable to attend on account of sickness, and then after receiving a diploma from his teacher, E. Leavitt Howard delivered diploma to his classmates. No one who was not present will be able to appreciate the interest and importance caused by the "regular pupils." About half past ten those who desired returned to the upper hall and indulged in dancing until one o'clock. Taking it all in the entertainment was one of the most enjoyable and successful ever given by the Hingham Agricultural and Horticultural society.

Retirement.

Mr. Joshua Wilkins has returned from Kentucky, having bought, while away, fifty-four head of horses—thirty-six for Horse Tralls and eighteen extra nice horses for his retail trade. The horses will arrive at his stables in East Braintree on Monday next.

Thanksgiving.

The Governor has appointed the day for our annual Thanksgiving Festival, the 30th instant, and Hunt & Co., have laid in a large stock of necessities, in order that friends may "eat and be merry" on that auspicious day. Read the advertisement and note prices.

Mother Should Know It.

Fretful babies cannot help disturbing everybody, and mothers should know how to handle Parker's Great Tonics. It stops babies' pains, and their appetite, relieves their own anxiety and is safe to use.—JOURNAL OF THE CEMETERY.

NOTH W. WEYMOUTH.

The North Weymouth Cemetery Association at its annual meeting held last Saturday evening, elected S. S. Beale, President; Hon. J. W. Nichols, Vice President; Wm. C. Nichols, Secretary; H. C. Nichols, Treasurer, and William C. Nichols, Trustee. The Ladies' Cemetary Improvement Association was opened Wednesday afternoon in the vestry of the Methodist church, under the most pleasant auspices. The attendance in the afternoon was fully as large as was expected, and the larger part of the time was spent in the arrangement of the tables, and other preliminary work, and the appearance of the vestry at evening drew near very inviting. The long tables stretching the entire length of both sides of the hall, were beautifully supplied with fancy articles, toys, aprons, etc., while a table across the east end was laden with dolls and confectionery. The cup and saucer table was also quite an attraction, and the display was very elaborate. Behind these tables, the ladies of the association were installed, and their smiling faces gave evidence that to their minds the fair was already an assured success.

In the evening the people began to gather fast, and by eight o'clock the large vestry was filled with a brilliant throng, who liberally patronized the different tables, seeming determined to make the affair as successful financially as possible.

We are sorry to state that Mr. Howard Loud is again confined to his home with sickness.

Miss Abby Loud was recently the recipient of a piano from her parents.

Mr. Francis Loud has a bright blooming son, which blossomed last Sunday evening.

The yachts in Weymouth fore river are being removed for the winter.

Something remarkable for this season of the year is that of a rose bush in blossom in the front yard of Mr. Chapin Thayer's home on Front street.

A lady visiting at Mr. John Dalton's fell down a flight of stairs last Friday evening, but escaped injury. When we consider her weight, which about 225 lbs., we think it was a wonderful escape.

Bryant & Bailey are to build an addition to their store building.

A horse road, preserved in alcohol, is on exhibition at Wyman's Drug Store.

The replanking of the platform around the pump at Lincoln square is needed very badly, as all the slip runs back into the well.

The marriage of Miss Emma Blanchard, daughter of Drs. Alonzo Blanchard, and Charles LeSauve, son of Thomas B. Seebury, all of this place, will take place Wednesday evening before Thanksgiving, 5th inst.

Misses Hattie and Jessie King, who have been visiting with Mr. Samuel King, will return to their home at Littleton, N. H., in a few days.

Mr. Frank W. Nash is moving into his new house.

A foot race between Messrs. McQuiggin and Crossley, two well known runners, will take place at the Park, South Weymouth, tomorrow afternoon.

Misses Hattie and Jessie King, who have been visiting with Mr. Samuel King, will return to their home at Littleton, N. H., in a few days.

Business at the establishment of Mr. George F. Butler is rushing, he having all he can attend to.

E. G. Tirrell still continues to close his Thursday evenings, at six o'clock, as was the custom during the summer months.

There will be a baptism at the Epiphany church next Sunday.

It is reported about town that two well known gentlemen of East Weymouth are to commence the manufacturing of boots and shoes, and will occupy the factory to be vacated by Mr. Edwin Clapp.

Mr. Herbert Mellish still continues to grow weaker, and it is feared that blood poisoning has set in.

Messrs. Louis Nash and Francis Hunt had a little surprise party near the toll bridge one night this week, the result being the burying of their clothes and their carriage robe, their enemy being too strong in the church.

Mr. W. J. Loring will occupy the new store on Washington square for a general depot and stationery store.

Mrs. Wm. Bowditch, at her home in East Weymouth, on Tuesday, fell down stairs but was fortunate enough to escape with some bruises.

Poisoned.

We are happy to learn that our former townsmen, Dr. F. L. Forsyth, of Providence R. I., has recovered from the effects of a singular case of poisoning, which occurred to him recently. He had partaken of a meal at a restaurant in company with a friend, and after eating with violence, had suffered intensely all night.

Dr. P. thinks there was arsenic in some of the food, but as the restaurant proprietor had nothing of that nature on the premises, the affair is a mystery to all concerned.

Bucklin's Arches Salve.

The BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts,

Bruises, Burns, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum,

Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions,

and particularly Cervical Piles. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

Price 25 cents per box. For sale at Gay's and Wyman's drug stores.

N. M.

EAST WEMYOUTH.

Goods.

IVING TRADE A CHOICE SUPPLY
E THE PUBLIC TO A CAREFUL
COMPARISON OF PRICES.

ncy Seedless Raisins, 18c per lb
Deshia Layer " 20c " Leghorn Citron, 20c "
s. Pigs, Dates,
Sweet Marjoram.
sses.

75 cents per gallon.
70 " "
60 " " 45 " "
60 and 45 " jar.
F-RAISING
38 cents, 3 lb. papers, 21c.
36 cents.

PPLY OF GOODS,
R, MACKEREL, SALMON.

Pork, Sausage, Hams and stables. Also, Celery and a full

OMPANY, eymouth Landing.

CEIVED, RTMENT OF
omforters,
NELS, dren's Underwear,
LINE OF

Cloths,
ND UPWARD.

SMITH,
South Weymouth.

ARTLETT,
THE WYEMOUTH.

EST AND MOST VARIED STOCKS
ITY, CONSISTING OF

ockery,
Glass and Wooden Ware, roceries,
atent Medicines,
c. &c., rest Prices.

TO CALL.

r's Friend.

nds of CLOTHING,
ONLY BY Weymouth, Mass.

TEREPITS.

HIT SHOP. to announce to the and vicinity that I ly occupied by Waldo

REPAIRING OF AGES,

the work of all who age, in a satisfactory prices.

TURNER.

xtra Quality
STOM SUITS

Line of ing Goods,

R'S, Weymouth

DITCH,

K STORE,"

SQUARE,

and Groceries,
RE, &c.

AS THE LOWES
ree of Clever and Satisfied.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

AT HOBART & WORSTER'S,
LINCOLN SQUARE, - WEYMOUTH,
CAN BE FOUND A LARGE VARIETY OF FEATHER TURBAN HATS,
At Extremely Low Prices! from
$1.25 to $3.00.

These goods were purchased direct from the manufacturer, and are of the best quality and CHOICEST SELECTIONS.

1882. MILLINERY. 1883.

Ladies of East Weymouth and vicinity will find a good assortment of FALL and WINTER STYLES at the millinery rooms of

MRS. A. A. SALISBURY,
55 BROAD STREET, - EAST WEYMOUTH.

RE-STOCKED.

Having purchased of Mr. Joseph Sherman his Coal and Grain business, I shall keep constantly on hand a full stock of Lackawanna, Shamokin, Franklin and Cumberland

COALS!

PINE AND HARD WOOD, SLABS,

Flour, Grain, Hay,

Straw, Lime, Cement, Brick, Laths, Hair, Sand.
Fence Rails and Posts. Wood sawed and split.

With the LOWEST market prices, FAIR DEALING, and strict attention to business, I hope to merit and would solicit your patronage.

E. A. BIGELOW.

Wharf and East Sts., East Weymouth.
Open from half-past six in the morning until half-past seven at night. Wednesday night closed at six o'clock. Order Box in the Post Office. All orders promptly attended to.

BRAINTREE

Entertainment.
On Thursday evening of last week a very pleasant and agreeable entertainment was held in Williams' Hall, as previously advertised. There was a good and intelligent audience in attendance, who seemed to appreciate the effort made to instruct as well as entertain. Miss Jessie B. Hagan improvised several songs at the opening on the following subjects given her by the audiences: Gov. Butler, President Arthur,
Love and Revenge, and Happy Courtship, Instructing lessons of patriotism, honesty and morality, in every department of life.
To the regret of those present she was obliged to leave the train for Boston early in the evening. Dr. A. H.
Richardson, of Charleston, was present and made some very interesting remarks;
Dr. J. L. followed, reading a piece on British Biscuits and their uses, which spent about thirty minutes in giving descriptions of what passed in relation to his chirurgical vision. The interest culminated in the closing part of the entertainment by Mrs. Cushman. A circle being formed rays were distinctly heard by all in the audience, and whilst she was giving descriptions responses were often made upon the table, after which the guitar was played upon by unseen fingers whilst it was in view of the audience, who desired having an opportunity to gather around and examine the wonderful manifestations.

C. W. Hall, Esq., has resigned his position as postmaster at East Braintree, and Alfred Mason has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mr. N. Teller has opened a shop at his residence on Factory Hill, where he will be on hand to attend to the repairing of boots and shoes.

J. F. Shepard is putting an addition to his building, so as to obtain larger and more commodious quarters.

Mr. Joshua Wilkins arrived home on Tuesday from his journey, to attend to matters connected with his business.

The Spiritualists were fortunate in having secured the services of Mrs. Juliette Lawson on Sunday last. She is one of the leaders occupying any platform, and whose lectures, remarkable for their original and practical character, will be a great attraction.

Her subject in the afternoon was "The Power of Thought," in the evening, "The power of thought." No abstract can give even an idea of the beautiful sparkling thought which it contained, or the lessons taught.

Sunday afternoon and evening next, Mr.
A. Heath, the blind medium from Hartlepool, will lecture, improvise songs, and give psychometric readings at Williams'

A new organ has been placed in Williams' Hall by members of the Spiritualist society, better tuned and of greater breadth of power than the one formerly used. It was manufactured by the Smith American Organ Co., of Boston.

The Jenkins' Mfg Co. is erecting an addition 24x9 ft., to make more ample accommodations for dying.

The Columbia Rubber Co. has been putting in radiators to heat their rooms by gas.

During a few weeks past some party or parties have evidently taken delight in carrying down notices of public meetings then posted in the East part of the town, one spite being more especially directed against notices for Spiritualist meetings.

Parties as the perpetrators of these acts, and when sufficient evidence has been obtained their names will be made known and the law enforced.

Mr. K. examined the goods a good thing because you have been deceived by worthless nothings.

Feather's Ginger Tonic has cured many of serious disorders, and we recommend it heartily to sufferers.—News.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!
Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

BENJAMIN T. WILKINS,
EAST BRAINTREE.

For a short time only.
Purchase while the price is low.

First Class Security!

Handsome dividends

AT THE BEST MANNER, with
Improved Machinery,
FOR $3.00.

THE NEWS.

Cleanings in New England.

Practical Sketch.

The Rock Island Railroad corporation, which had been incorporated in Providence, recently, cost last year $51,477 and expenses $78,152. From the estate of James D. Lovell, who had a large fortune, there was about $100,000 left over, which he had left his wife, and the corporation at "autopsy building," owing $20,000. Three thousand men were employed, and $100,000 was required for Alton free from the 1st to Edward W. Allen. During the year '70, debts were admitted at $1 mil.

Sig Purchases.

In the trial of the suit of William J. Sig against the Quicksilver Company, whose total assets were $1,000,000, a rule of Trustee Gandy's was given to the trustee, the plaintiff, to the amount of $100,000, which was paid to the defendant, and the rest went to the trustee. On December 26, they had sold the trust assets for $100,000 worth of cotton, upon which the plaintiff had a claim of $100,000. They were given a sum to one cent, a sum more than the date market price, because they gave Charles Gandy credit to the amount of $100,000, and he allowed him to make payments to one cent, which was convenient for him to do so. The defendant's claim of $100,000 was ruled out as formal error. The defense claimed that interior cotton was sold to Gandy, and that the two Charles' bought and not the plaintiff.

Incident at About.

The large barn of Soden Hoy's Sons, owners of New Canaan, U. S., all timbered, went up in flames, and was entirely destroyed. It cost $1,000 of barn, a large quantity of grain, etc., 11 hours, 25 head of cattle, and other farm implements, all of which were insured. The insurance is for $75,000. It was an incendiary fire.

Gas Men Burned.

John Clegg, who was very suddenly at his residence in Quincy at the age of 83 years, 9 months. He was born at Boston January 17, 1812, and died at Quincy, Mass., on the 21st of the month. In 1837, was his president from 1834 to 1837, of the State Senate to 1842 and mayor of Boston 1848-50. Clegg was a man of great energy, his administration and principally through his influence. He was also one of the leading speakers in the cause of the abolition of slavery, teaching education. For many years he was one of the heavy losses men of Boston and was long a member of the Boston Anti-Slavery Society.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects. He leaves two sons, Joseph Phillips Q. of Quincy, and Gen. M. Quincy, who is the son of the late General. His daughter, the wife of the celebrated astronomer, Prof. Benjamin A. Gould, now in South America.

Serious Fire at Portland, Maine.

One of the largest Portland, private houses, situated on State Street, came into existence on Wednesday, which destroyed the large wooden building in which his office was located. The fire was of great magnitude, and it spread in the most flattering terms, chiefly because of the opposition of all the prevailing influences around the court of the appearance.

The Fisheries.

The dredging business, the character of the marine fisheries, the state of the fishery, leading associations. For many years he was one of the heavy losses men of Boston and was long a member of the Boston Anti-Slavery Society.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Matters in Washington.

A committee of six has been appointed to act as chairman of the Longwood menswear committee.

In a letter accepting the chairmanship he said: "The winter of 1878 and 1880 passed quietly, without any material or pecuniary arrangements. The officers spent their spare time in reading, using the dinner hour for the study of the Chinese language."

The general mass of the members was pleased than in any other year, and the winter of 1881 was the best ever known.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

Ellis Croft and William Neal, two murderers, were being taken for trial to Grindon, Ky., under the direction of 500 soldiers, who had attacked them. The two men and several of the attacking party were killed and wounded. The prisoners and the cops got safe, however, and the court adjourned.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Terrific Failure.

In a letter to Davenport, Ia., he writes to test the strength of the new plow, which he recently invented for the use of the people. Judge Hayes decided against it. The chief reason was that it was not good for the soil.

Attack on Senator, N. H., a prominent citizen, for many years an overseer of the school at Concord, San Ildefonso, Lewiston and Auburn, the people came in a procession of the terrible configuration of 1865. There were many of the school children, who had been educated in the original and finally succeeded in stopping the fire. The loss is estimated at $100,000 to $150,000.

Major the whole amount of the $100,000, which is desired to raise for the erection of a new school at the Martin's school, and the Kinsella school, which has been described. The ultimate success of the enterprise is not practically settled.

Attack on Senator, N. H., a prominent citizen, for many years an overseer of the school at Concord, San Ildefonso, Lewiston and Auburn, the people came in a procession of the terrible configuration of 1865. There were many of the school children, who had been educated in the original and finally succeeded in stopping the fire. The loss is estimated at $100,000 to $150,000.

Important Case.

The name squirrel comes from the Greek word skurus, which is made up of two words, signifying shade and tail, indicative of the little creature's habit of shading its entire body when at rest with its tail. If the reader is a would-be squirrel owner, and proposes to catch one in the woods, he will be obliged to take just the kind of one that is foolish enough to enter his trap; but if he proposes to buy one, he should select it carefully, for much depends upon the condition of the prisoner in taming and keeping him. See that the fur is sleek and glossy, for dry, ruffled-looking fur is a sure sign the animal is sick, or pining for the woods that he will not live very long in a cage. Observe well if the feet are clean, for if they are dirty, he has lost all pride in his appearance, which is another sign of homesickness or some equally serious ailment. The eyes should be bright, and the teeth perfectly white. Yellow teeth are a sign of age, and it is as difficult to tame a very old squirrel as it is to keep him alive in captivity.

Having made the selection of just such a one as you want for a pet, give him all the comfort possible in the way of a cage. It is better to have a large rough one than a small neat-looking one, and if it is not possible to buy a large cage, make one yourself, and the squirrel will be pleased at the absence of style because of the increased facilities for moving about.

A board thirty-six inches long and sixteen wide is quite as small a base for the house and run-around as should be given. Twenty-two inches of this length should be devoted to the dwelling portion, which should be built something after the style of a one-story cottage, with a second floor just at the slope of the roof, so that the attic may serve as sleeping-room and a place to which the squirrel can retire when he is anxious to be hidden from view.

The lower front of the house may be of wire, so that a portion of his domestic life may be seen. The second floor should have it in an opening about three inches square, which is contrived with the first floor by a small strip of board or thin stuff of any kind, placed at an angle, so that he can get "upstairs" without difficulty.

The doors should be of some hard wood, so that they may not absorb water, and be easily cleaned. The house should be given a coat of paint, and the door should be painted with a varnish.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

Pelham Philip H. Smith went into a saloon in New York recently, demanded a glass of beer, and when refused arrested the bartender, Michael Mulligan, and the other, the son of an attorney, and several of the attacking party were killed and wounded. The prisoners and the cops got safe, however, and the court adjourned.

The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the other, the single track, was laid. A freight train overtook a passenger train, and the passenger train had to stop. The passenger train was stopped, and the other, the double track, was laid. The Duke of Connaught reached London a few days ago. He is received by King Edward VII at a levee at the Royal Palace. During the years of his life, Mr. Quincy and his son, John Quincy, had great attention to various projects for the benefit of the poor and other objects.

Attack on Two Murderers.

A double track was laid, and the

FRIDAY, NOV. 24, 1882.

All Around The Hub.

THE MAYORALTY.

The Hub scarcely settled down after the excitement of the contest over the election of a governor and other state officers before it is drawn into another contest over the municipal election. This year as last the democrats have made a strictly partisan nomination—Hon. Albert Palmer,—for mayor, but it is somewhat significant, and a matter of surprise to many, that though Gen'l Butler carried the city by upwards of twelve thousand majority, and though Mr. Palmer was one of his most ardent supporters, the two most influential democratic papers here, the Post and the Pilot, not only do not endorse his nomination, but in no doubtful terms condemn it as unwise.

Mayor Gilfill will without doubt receive the nomination of the Citizens' and the Republican conventions, and notwithstanding the large nominal democratic majority here on the 7th, it is believed he will be elected, for he will receive the votes not only of many republicans who voted for Butler but also of democrats who feel, as a strong democratic friend said to us recently, "that no greater misfortune could befall the city of Boston than to have it controlled by a strictly partisan city government."

We observe that some who have been interviewed who favor the retirement of Mayor Green raise the old cry of improper appointments and great extravagance; but it has lost its force, and we may congratulate ourselves that we shall one more year have a clean, non-partisan city government, composed in a great measure of men chosen because they are the proper ones to be chosen.

A happy day would it be for the country if other cities could have for their chief magistrate one who was the citizens' candidate and not the selection of a party convention.

BUSINESS ENTHRALLS.

We think it has been stated that upwards of seventy-five out of every one hundred men who engage in business fail once at least; our impression is that the percentage is still higher than that. Some fail because they really have no faculty to either buy or sell; that is they are not adapted to do business on their own account. Many a man is a good mate who would be lost under the responsibility of being "made captain." Some men who possess otherwise good business qualities, fail because they cannot comprehend the mysteries of credit. It has been said, and very truly, that any fool can sell goods but that it takes a smart man to get paid for them. Bad debts have failed more men than have lost on merchandise. But a large number of men know not only how to buy and sell and collect, do not know how to keep money after they have accumulated, it by years of hard work. One who knows the people of Boston cannot walk our streets without encountering some individual who years since ranked as one of the merchant princes, but who has been dragged down to poverty by speculations outside of his legitimate business. Such men excite our sympathy, but we know that others who will not learn wisdom by the experience of another will follow in their footsteps.

THE CHRISTMAS ST. NICHOLAS.

The great holiday number comes laden with its seasonal freight of mirth and good cheer; and chiefly among its special features is a Christmas story, by Louis M. Alcott, entitled "Grandma's Pearls." Other timely features are first, the bright colored frontispieces, —a snow scene, with children, pony, and dogs, and an unmistakable Christmas flavor. Then there is a graphic account of a long dog-sledge journey on Lake Winnipig, capably illustrated; a Christmas poem, a clever short story, "The Christmas Fairies," a pathetic little Christmas tale, and two pages of a poem, "Christmas Carol."

Besides the foregoing, there is much that is not a whit less attractive just because it does not happen to be more appropriate to Christmas than to any and every season. The entire number, including the "Departments," is copiously and handsomely illustrated by the cleverest designers for children.

The Royal Hand Bell Ringers

Charmed and delighted a large audience at the Union church last Tuesday evening, with their artistic and harmonious performances of popular airs and classical music on their carillon of one hundred and thirty one bells, also in their role of glee singers presenting "The Three Clappers," "A Little Farm," and other familiar vocal selections.

The selections from their program of bell music were the solo and chorus from "Moses in Egypt"; "serenade, 'Mandolinata'; "Hall, smiling morn"; "Home, sweet home"; "Last song of summer"; "Rory O'More"; march, "Turkish Patrol" in which the strains of an approaching and departing band were splendidly imitated, the gradual dying away of the music in the distance being exquisitely rendered. "Blue bells of Scotland"; "waltz, 'The Showdrop,' and "The Sparrows" waltz were very pleasant, while the "Initiation of Village Bells and Chimes" was especially interesting to those who have visited the Old World and heard the daily intonations of the bells of England. In the poise, "The Westminster Chimes," the audience was entertained by a faithful delineation of the striking of the hours on the massive bell in the cloisters of Westminster Hall. Mr. E. S. Hunt, who has heard the sound of "Big Ben," informs us that it was an exact imitation of the tone of that ponderous mass of metal. The "Chimes of Normandy" was one of the most pleasing selections of the programme, and the wonderful manipulation of 75 bells in its production was well worth witnessing. The entertainment concluded with the national air, "God save the Queen." Mr. Duncan S. Miller, the conductor, filled up the intervals between the selections by felicitous descriptions of bells of note, and also those by which the company had produced such wonderful harmony.

School Entertainment.

The pupils of the Franklin school (first grade), E. Weymouth, held a very interesting "Bryant" exercise, in their schoolroom, last Friday afternoon, consisting of declamations from the works of William Cullen Bryant. The exercise not only relieved the tedium of school routine, but was highly interesting and instructive. We append a few of the principal parts:

"Troy Town," May 1860.
"Green Mountain," Walter Smith.
"American Chief," Fred Bicknell.

"The Child's Journal," Etta Bates.

"A Boy's Life," Mary Joy.

"The Rivulet," Percy Hart.

"The Woods," Addie Canterbury.

"The Two Gravels," Miss Cushing.

The entertainment was concluded by a concert exercise by the school.

LOCAL TOPICS.

WEDDING BELLS.
At Needham, Nov. 23d, Mr. R. F. Denfeld, the popular master of the Weymouth North High School, was united in marriage to Miss Helen S., daughter of Capt. A. P. Boyd, of the Merchant Service. The ceremony took place at the First Parish Church, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Bush, after the forms of the Episcopal service. The occasion was one of great interest to many friends from near and far who thronged the beautiful church, which was tastefully decorated with white flowers.

The dress of the bride was most elegant and tasteful, consisting of white satin Merveilleux, with Honiton lace and pearl ornaments, and a Honiton lace veil, a present from the bride's grandfather in London.

The bride, who possesses an imposing and magnificent figure, presented a lovely and beautiful appearance in such appropriate dress, with flowers of Jasmine and white rosebuds.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony, at the residence of the bride's parents, where was exhibited a numerous and costly array of presents, and hosts of friends greeted the happy couple and did full justice to the rich and abundant supplies of the caterer's art.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Rev. P. A. Nordell, having accepted the call to the first Baptist church, New London, Conn., to work there the first Sunday in December, will preach his farewell sermon in the Baptist church here next Sunday afternoon. The church have voted unanimously to dispense with the prayer meeting next Tuesday evening, and instead to tender their pastor a farewell reception, to which all the members of the church and congregation are cordially invited.

NEWSPAPER.

Our native artist, Mr. E. Aubrey Hunt, son of Mr. E. S. Hunt, fireworks manufacturer, who spent the summer in New England with his family, will return to his London residence the last of this month. He has spent a large portion of his time in sketching the coast scenery along the New England shore, which he will work up paintings for his English patrons.

DEATHS.

Mr. Leonard Gardner, of the Board of Assessors of Weymouth, has been suddenly called to mourn the loss of his wife, who died last Tuesday morning, after an illness of about a week. The couple had been married 47 years. Mr. Gardner being a daughter of Mr. Crocker Wilder, of South Hingham, and one of a family of twelve children. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Hewitt officiating.

DEATH.

Dea. Jonathan Hunt, a native of Weymouth, where he resided many years, died in Setauket on Tuesday morning, aged 71. He was a son of Asa Hunt, Esq., and had several brothers and sisters, all deceased. His son engaged in the custom boot and shoe business, and had also carried on the grocery business in Maine, and in this town and Abington. He removed from Weymouth to Setauket recently. He married for his first wife a daughter of Capt. Edw. Vinton, of Braintree, who died some two years ago, and his second wife who survives him, was a daughter of Capt. Andrews Lane, of Weymouth. His two daughters, by his first wife, are both dead.

An account of the death of Dea. Hunt has been published in the Boston papers, under the head of "Suspicious Death," but Medical Examiner Brewster, who was notified, made examination and pronounced the cause of death to be paralysis.

The services of Undertaker Samuel Curtis were obtained, and the body was conveyed to Weymouth, where funeral services were held in the Universalist church Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Jerome officiating.

MURKIN.

Mr. Herbert Mellen, son of T. C. Mellen, of Weymouth Landing, died last Friday, the injuries sustained by him in the accidental discharge of a gun while hunting, having had a successful career. The young man having been a great favorite during his four weeks stay at the hospital. His death is a sore affliction to his parents. Mr. Mellen was 23 years of age, 22 days old. The body was brought home yesterday, and the funeral will take place Sunday next, at 1 P. M. Friends are invited.

ANOTHER GRIEVE.

It is rumored that the Quincy members of South Shore Commandery are making efforts to have the headquarters of the Commandery transferred from East Weymouth to Quincy. "Inaptate archer!" would not one (gobble) suffice?"

SNOW.

The ground was pretty well covered last Saturday morning with winter's fleecy garment, and one of our residents, Mr. Frank Blanchard of South Weymouth, had the pluck to scrape his way through the mingled soil and snow in a sleigh, to the Landing and back.

LOW PRICES FOR MEAT.

Monday a car load of fresh beef arrived here from the west, consigned to a Marshfield butcher, who offered it for sale at prices from six to twelve and one-half cents, according to quality. A correspondent states a party in East Weymouth purchased a sirloin at 11c per lb., but when he had removed the suet and kidneys the sirloin cost him 17c, 2 cts. more than the rate of house butchers.

LETTER FROM FRAZER.

The citizens of South Weymouth and vicinity are to be treated next Tuesday evening, at Music Hall, with an entertainment of Atkinson's Jollities, in the comic opera of "The Electric Spark," which is said to be the best company traveling, making an evening of it.

LECTURE.

The superbly illustrated lecture of Harry W. French, to be given in the course at the Union church next Tuesday evening, has received such flattering comment that we are sure all who attend will be richly repaid. The wonderful scenes of the stupendous Himalaya mountains, artistically depicted, will be one of the greatest attractions of the course.

NOTES.

The ladies of the Cemetery association have decided to hold their fair at Lincoln Hall, Dec. 13, 14, and 15.

Complaints are constantly heard concerning the obnoxious noise between the houses on State Street, resulting from the out-of-town peddlars who have checked enough not to move when a person desire to pass them, and it is said that several cases of fits have been produced by this noise.

The Duxbury express and the accommodation train were delayed over an hour last Monday afternoon, caused by a derangement of the draw bridge at Bedell.

Mr. George Davis is doing a large business at his slaughter house on Broad street.

Mr. Wm. P. Litchfield and family are visiting at their former home, Scituate.

The residence of Dr. L. N. Tower on Front street is being altered so as to accommodate a new family.

Mr. Waterman Barrell has returned to New York where he is engaged in painting E. F. Linton's residence.

The grading of the yard about the new school house is completed.

Mr. Waterman has papered for Riverside, the first floor of next month.

Mr. George E. Hunt, who has heard the sound of "Big Ben," informs us that it was an exact imitation of the tone of that ponderous mass of metal.

The "Chimes of Normandy" was one of the most pleasing selections of the programme, and the wonderful manipulation of 75 bells in its production was well worth witnessing. The entertainment concluded with the national air, "God save the Queen." Mr. Duncan S. Miller, the conductor, filled up the intervals between the selections by felicitous descriptions of bells of note, and also those by which the company had produced such wonderful harmony.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The pupils of the Franklin school (first grade), E. Weymouth, held a very interesting "Bryant" exercise, in their schoolroom, last Friday afternoon, consisting of declamations from the works of William Cullen Bryant. The exercise not only relieved the tedium of school routine, but was highly interesting and instructive. We append a few of the principal parts:

"Troy Town," May 1860.

"Green Mountain," Walter Smith.

"American Chief," Fred Bicknell.

"The Child's Journal," Etta Bates.

"A Boy's Life," Mary Joy.

"The Rivulet," Percy Hart.

"The Woods," Addie Canterbury.

"The Two Gravels," Miss Cushing.

The entertainment was concluded by a concert exercise by the school.

EAST WEYMOUTH.

THE CHURCHES.

Rev. S. L. Gracey, of Chelsea, a former pastor of the Methodist society of this place, occupied the desk at that church last Sunday, and was greeted with very large audiences. The evening was a great success. The organ and piano were played by Rev. Mr. Bush, after the forms of the Episcopal service. The occasion was one of great interest to many friends from near and far who thronged the beautiful church, which was tastefully decorated with white flowers.

The dress of the bride was most elegant and tasteful, consisting of white satin Merveilleux, with Honiton lace and pearl ornaments, and a Honiton lace veil, a present from the bride's grandfather in London.

The bride, who possesses an imposing and magnificent figure, presented a lovely and beautiful appearance in such appropriate dress, with flowers of Jasmine and white rosebuds.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony, at the residence of the bride's parents, where was exhibited a numerous and costly array of presents, and hosts of friends greeted the happy couple and did full justice to the rich and abundant supplies of the caterer's art.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

WEDDING FEAST.

Rev. W. H. Bass, Andrew C. Gray, Chas. H. Tracy, Prelate, Senior Warden, Thomas H. Humphrey, Treasurer, Edmund G. Bates, Standard Bearer, F. J. Fuller, Sword Bearer, Willard K. Richards, Warden, John Nelson, Guards, Davis D. Randall, Nathan A. Brickett and Biram E. Raymond.

A number of the Masonic fraternity paid a visit to their brethren in Abington, Monday evening, the occasion being the regular visitation of Dist. Dep. Seymour and suite.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

WEDDING FEAST.

Rev. W. H. Bass, Andrew C. Gray, Chas. H. Tracy, Prelate, Senior Warden, Thomas H. Humphrey, Treasurer, Edmund G. Bates, Standard Bearer, F. J. Fuller, Sword Bearer, Willard K. Richards, Warden, John Nelson, Guards, Davis D. Randall, Nathan A. Brickett and Biram E. Raymond.

A number of the Masonic fraternity paid a visit to their brethren in Abington, Monday evening, the occasion being the regular visitation of Dist. Dep. Seymour and suite.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

WEDDING FEAST.

Rev. W. H. Bass, Andrew C. Gray, Chas. H. Tracy, Prelate, Senior Warden, Thomas H. Humphrey, Treasurer, Edmund G. Bates, Standard Bearer, F. J. Fuller, Sword Bearer, Willard K. Richards, Warden, John Nelson, Guards, Davis D. Randall, Nathan A. Brickett and Biram E. Raymond.

A number of the Masonic fraternity paid a visit to their brethren in Abington, Monday evening, the occasion being the regular visitation of Dist. Dep. Seymour and suite.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

WEDDING FEAST.

Rev. W. H. Bass, Andrew C. Gray, Chas. H. Tracy, Prelate, Senior Warden, Thomas H. Humphrey, Treasurer, Edmund G. Bates, Standard Bearer, F. J. Fuller, Sword Bearer, Willard K. Richards, Warden, John Nelson, Guards, Davis D. Randall, Nathan A. Brickett and Biram E. Raymond.

A number of the Masonic fraternity paid a visit to their brethren in Abington, Monday evening, the occasion being the regular visitation of Dist. Dep. Seymour and suite.

Wednesday evening, Dist. Dep. C. W. Seymour, of Hingham, and suite, installed Orphan's Hope Lodge, and invited the officers for the ensuing term.

After a dinner a fine collation was served in the banquet hall, and the evening was spent in a very pleasant manner.

<b

Goods.

GIVING TRADE A CHOICE SUPPLY TO THE PUBLIC TO A CAREFUL
COMPARISON OF PRICES.

anecdotes, Raisins, 18c per lb.
Dehesa Layer " sec " " Leghorn Citron, sec " " etc., Pies, Dates,
Sweet Marjoram,
Sesame.

5 cents per gallon.
70 " " " 60 " " " 45 " " "
60 and 45 " " gallon.
LIF-BRAISING
38 cents. 3 lb. paper, etc.
36 cents.

SUPPLY OF GOODS,
EER, MACKEREL, SALMON.

Bacon, Sausage, Ham and Lard. Also, Celery and a full vegetable.

OMPANY,
Weymouth Landing.

OVERCOATS!
DQUARTERS.

$3.50 to $10

5 to 15

8 to 20

8 to 15

10 to 25

12 to 25

12 to 20

15 to 25

15 to 26

8 to 20

4 to 20

8 to 18

250 to 15

150 to 10

5 to 25

1 to 8

75 cents to 3

25 cents to 75 cents and Drawers $1.25

Shirts 50 cents to $2

swedged to be the best Fit-ment.

ed to be the lowest for the cheapest by ELECTRIC LIGHT.

OT'S,

on, next door to Herald Build'g.

250 & 254 Essex St, Salem, Mass

CEIVED,
ORTMENT OF Comforters,

NELS,

children's Underwear,

EW LINE OF I Cloths,
AND UPWARD.

SMITH,
South Weymouth

BARTLETT, ORTH WYEMOUTH.

LARGEST AND MOST VARIED STOCKS

VICINITY, CONSISTING OF

Crockery,

Glass and

Wooden Ware,

Groceries,

Patent Medicines,
etc. &c.

lowest Prices.

LL TO CALL.

cement, 1882.

ST WORK,

ABLE PRICES.

HAS.P.TURNER,

MANUFACTURER OF

INE CARRIAGES.

ERS SOLICITED FOR THE FINEST CUSTOM

ER.

aptly Attended to.

EAST WYEMOUTH

AR'S
e Garments!!

a Quality Cloths,

GUARANTEED.

RLY, TAILOR.

- Weymouth.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

AT HOBART & WORSTER'S,
LINCOLN SQUARE, - WYEMOUTH,
CAN BE FOUND A LARGE VARIETY OF FEATHER TURBAN HATS,
At Extremely Low Prices! from
$1.25 to $3.00.

These hats were purchased direct from the manufacturer, and are of the best quality and choicest selections.

1882. MILLINERY. 1883.

Ladies of East Weymouth and vicinity will find a good assortment of FALL and WINTER STYLES at the millinery rooms of

MRS. A. A. SALISBURY,

55 BROAD STREET, - EAST WYEMOUTH.

Housekeeper's Friend.

It never injures the fabric.
MANUFACTURED ONLY BY
H. T. BICKNELL, - North Weymouth, Mass.

For sale by first class grocers. If your grocer don't have it, ask him to get it, and take no other.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

WM. BOWDITCH,
AT THE
"OLD BRICK STORE," WASHINGTON SQUARE,
Has a LARGE STOCK.

First-Class Dry Goods and Groceries,
FURNITURE, &c.

Which he offers at prices AS LOW AS LOWEST.
10 Goods Delivered Promptly Free of Charge and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

BAINTREE.

Fri. About 9 o'clock on Sunday evening last, parties were passing along Washington street, near the stable of E. Burrell, they noticed the aroma from burning bay and saw smoke issuing from the barn of J. L. Bates. An alarm was immediately given, and when the fire was supposed to have been subdued, all went home, Mr. Bates remaining to keep watch of the same. He remained late, and as no signs of fire could be discovered retired. About three o'clock Monday morning another alarm was sounded, fire being discovered in the rear of the building. With the barn was a shop where were manufactured Bates' Pitts, and as near as can be ascertained, the fire had worked its way between the ceilings separating the two parts of the building, and remained silently doing its work, which resulted in entirely ruining the stock of Pitts, oiling and engraving of mounted birds and animals. A portrait of the late Dr. John Brown illustrates a chapter of his life. The artist has done a masterly work.

The December CENTURY.

Variety and freshness of illustrations and literary features are claimed for the December CENTER. John Marshall, the Great Chief-Judge, is the subject of the frontispiece, which with character sketches and many portraits, belongs to E. V. Smalley's paper "The Supreme Court of the United States."

Admiral Farragut, the hero of the Civil War, is the subject of another article. Pitts' India ink, which has been living in an adopted child for two years or more. William Elliot Griffis explains "The Korean Origin of Japanese Art."

The "Handorial Art" is the subject of a number of beautiful engravings of mounted birds and animals. A portrait of the late Dr. John Brown illustrates a chapter of his life. The artist has done a masterly work.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Sometime between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

Hallock's Food's serial, "The Led-House Claim" advances to a strong and interesting position.

Some time between a story and a tragic catastrophe, it is "Point of View," which is even more interesting than "Daisy Miller." Professor Lombourny, of Yale, returns to "The Problem of Reforming Reform," and John Burroughs talks delightfully of the island of Ceylon and small animals when it is actually across.

